MEMBERSHIP TYPES AND CRITERIA

The Council offers three types of membership: governance members, associate members, and collaborative partners. If an institution meets all of the requirements below it will be designated as a Governance member. Associate members are institutions that meet core standards 1, 3, 4, 5, and 6 below. In other words, they do not offer fully accredited comprehensive undergraduate curricula rooted in the arts and sciences. Examples include seminaries, Bible colleges, undergraduate institutions without a full curriculum in the arts or sciences, and non-accredited institutions. Collaborative partners meet core standards 1-4 below. Collaborative partners include those colleges and universities who find common cause with the CCCU and likewise seek the freedom to educate within their religious convictions.

By providing the information requested in the following document, the CCCU will be able to ascertain which membership category best suits your institution. Based on the following core membership standards and understandings, the CCCU president and Board of Directors will advise renewing and applying institutions on their category of relationship within the CCCU.

1. Christian Mission: All CCCU members have a board-approved and public institutional mission statement that is Christ-centered and aligns with the following three commitments:
 - a. Biblical Truth: A demonstrated commitment to integrating the Holy Scriptures—divinely inspired, true, and authoritative—throughout the institution, including teaching and researching in all academic disciplines.
 - b. Christian Formation: A demonstrated commitment to fostering Christian virtues grounded in the Scriptures and nurtured through the institution’s curricular and co-curricular programs.
 - c. Gospel Witness: A demonstrated commitment to advance God’s redemptive purposes in the world by graduating students who live and share the Gospel in word and deed.
2. Institutional Type and Accreditation: CCCU members offer comprehensive undergraduate curricula rooted in the arts and sciences and may also offer graduate programs and degrees. All U.S. members must be in good standing with a regional accrediting body. International members must be recognized by the equivalent accreditation body in their respective countries.
3. Cooperation and Participation: All CCCU schools support other Christian colleges and universities and advance the cause of Christian higher education through participation in the programs of the CCCU and payment of the annual dues. Member campuses are urged to demonstrate continuing support for the CCCU through annual registration for CCCU professional development and/or student programs. In addition, CCCU institutions recognize that fellow schools are seeking to pursue faithfully their institutional missions in their particular contexts, and therefore they demonstrate respect and support for each other.
4. Institutional Integrity: All CCCU members demonstrate responsible financial operations, have institutional practices that reflect high ethical standards, and operate all financial and fundraising activities consistent with the standards of the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability.

Membership Application

5. Employment Policies: CCCU voting members have a continuing institutional policy and practice, effective throughout membership, to hire as full-time faculty members and administrators only persons who profess faith in Jesus Christ.

6. Christian Distinctives and Advocacy: The CCCU has a robust, necessary, and increasingly important advocacy role within the public square. Historic Christian beliefs and practices often intersect with current governmental interests and regulation. These Christian beliefs and practices guide the CCCU advocacy positions—as decided by the Board of Directors—to be in the best interest of advancing Christian higher education in the public square. These advocacy positions change over time, but they currently include positions such as:
 - a. We hold the Christian belief that the Earth and the entire universe are God’s good creation. We advocate for the sustainability and preservation of the Earth.
 - b. We hold the Christian belief that human beings, male and female, are created in the image of God to flourish in community, and, as to intimate sexual relations, they are intended for persons in a marriage between one man and one woman. We advocate for the right of Christian institutions to maintain practices that align with this sexual ethic.
 - c. We hold the Christian belief that all human beings, without exception, are invested with inherent worth and dignity. We advocate for the wellbeing of the underserved and marginalized, for the protection of people of all faiths from religious persecution, and for the preservation and advancement of religious freedoms.
 - d. We hold the Christian belief that the Gospel calls us toward reconciliation with one another. We advocate for humble and courageous action that honors the unity of the human race, values ethnic and cultural diversity, and addresses the injustices of racism.

CCCU Governance and Associate members voluntarily agree to align as institutions with these advocacy positions. In addition, the Council’s own services, advocacy, employment practices, and student programs will be consistent with these alignments and Christian beliefs and principles.

Detailed information about CCCU programs and services is available on our website at www.cccu.org. Additional information follows about the application process, criteria, and the required information for our Board to review in making its decision. Please contact us if you have any questions.

PROCEDURE FOR INITIAL MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION AND REVIEW

1. Complete this application form and mail it to the president of the CCCU with the requested documents and a check for the nonrefundable application fee ($1000). If accepted, this fee will be applied to your institution's first-year dues.
2. Once all requested information is received, CCCU staff will circulate a summary to the presidents of CCCU member institutions and invite their feedback. After ten days, a summary of their comments will be added to the application materials.
3. Once the application is complete, CCCU staff will review and present the documents for review by the CCCU's Board Development and Membership Committee. The committee will make a recommendation to the Board of Directors as to which category of membership the institution fits within, and the Membership Committee of the Board will make the final membership decision.
4. A member's dues for the first year are payable upon receipt of notice of acceptance. New members pay prorated dues. Upon receipt of a new member's payment of dues, the institution becomes an active member and has all membership rights. CCCU staff adds the institution to CCCU publications, websites, e-lists, mailing lists, etc. as quickly as possible.

DUES

Dues are set by the Board of Directors. The schedule is based on the CCCU's FY calendar of July 1 through June 30. First year membership dues will be prorated, based on the date of acceptance. Governance member dues are calculated based on the institutions full-time equivalent (FTE) fall enrollment number. Associate members and collaborative partners pay 75% of the equivalent membership dues.

REAFFIRMATION PROCESS

Concurrent with the annual payment of dues, the president of each institution is asked to reaffirm the institution's compliance with membership requirements. Each year, the CCCU will include a questionnaire along with the dues invoice for each institution to allow the CCCU to reassess annually whether each institution is in the correct membership category. Additionally, on the rare occasion when there are sufficient questions raised by staff or other member institutions, a more formal reaffirmation or additional documentation may be requested.

CHANGE OF STATUS OR TERMINATION OF MEMBERSHIP

If an institution fails to comply with the criteria consistent with its membership status, the Board may change the institution's status or terminate its membership. Alternatively, if an institution fails to meet some criteria but indicates its intent to work toward full compliance again, it may be put "on notice" for a specific period of time, in order to demonstrate full compliance. An institution that voluntarily withdraws from membership is expected to pay the prorated dues invoiced from the beginning of the CCCU's fiscal year to the date of receipt by the CCCU of the institution's written request to withdraw.
